Funeral of Axel Johnson Sunday Afternoon—Personals and Notes.

The funeral of Axel Johnson took place from his late home at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and services were held in the Swedish church on Hickory street. Rev. F. A. Peterson, pastor, officiating. The bearers were: Charles Erickson, Charles Anderson, August Rydholm, Redwald Berckoff. In attendance besides many relatives and friends were members of organizations which the deceased was a member. There were many beautiful flowers. Interment was in the Hamilton avenue cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Peterson read a committal service. Undertakers Church & Allen had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Personals and Notes.
Fred Coats has moved to Smith avenue.

Alden Wilcox of Noank was a visitor here Sunday.

William Hastings spent Saturday and Sunday in Providence.

John Reardon of Jewett City spent the week end with his parents.

Parker Lathrop of Yale is at home here over the Christmas vacation.

Miss Marian Conyers of Providence is the guest of Miss Louise Bellefleur at her home on Hickory street.

Miss Louise Bellefleur of Providence is visiting at her home on Hickory street over the coming holidays.

Charles Prentice, a student at Yale, is spending the Christmas vacation with his mother on Central avenue.

Frederick Haslam underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Packus hospital last Friday. He is doing nicely.

Rev. Arthur Varley of the Taftville Congregational church, occupied the pulpit at the afternoon service of the Greenville Congregational church.

DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT AT MORTGAGE BURNING.

Rev. George G. Scrivener at Moosup Church—Address By Former District Superintendent Newland.

At last week's burning of the mortgage note of Moosup Methodist church, Rev. George G. Scrivener, of Norwich, superintendent of Norwich district, spoke of "Moosup church and Norwich district." The speaker pointed out the advantages that have come to the church by its connection with the other sixty-five churches of Norwich district from whom he brought greetings.

He referred to the release from debt as the beginning of larger service on the part of the church rather than as the conclusion. He said with the burden of debt removed the church might be said to be stripped for action.

Rev. John H. Newland, formerly of Norwich, now pastor of the First M. E. church, Fall River, Mass., who was for six years superintendent of Norwich district was introduced by the pastor, Rev. H. Withers.

Mr. Newland spoke of his first impressions of the venture of Moosup church and of Rev. John L. Wheeler, then pastor. He said when he received the invitation to speak at this occasion on the subject "Moosup Church—Venturing," his first thought was a Latin quotation, in English, "I sing of a man and the man." He declared that when we think of our proposition we invariably think first of the man and next of certain equipment.

He paid high tribute to the venturesome spirit of Mr. Wheeler and the members of Moosup church, and declared that the success of the movement from the beginning was the fact that Moosup church had a leader who knew what he was doing.

Next Sunday morning and evening Mrs. Annette Pettinelli Conyers, who next to Mrs. Vanderbilt is the most popular psychic that comes here, will speak and give messages and on Sunday, January 9th, Mrs. Vanderbilt will be the speaker.

The Helping Hands cleared over $50 from their afternoon sale last Wednesday and nearly as much from the rummage sale held last month.

School Will Open After Christmas.

It has been decided not to open the third grade school at the Laurel Hill school until after the Christmas recess. The room has been closed on account of a scarlet fever and although no new cases have developed lately it has been thought best to take the extra precaution of keeping the room closed for the rest of this term.

About 25,000 incandescent lamp filaments can be made from one pound of tungsten.

On Thursday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock the new $9,000 Seagraves fire fighting apparatus, comprising a combination motor pump engine and a chemical and hose carrier, will be given its official test on Falls avenue, at a customary place near the city dumping grounds. The pump has been in the city and at the Central station since last Thursday and if the results of the test prove satisfactory, there it will remain, to be the most efficient piece of fire preventive apparatus Norwich has yet acquired.

At preliminary test last week the pump worked satisfactorily and although Thursday's trial will be rigid and thorough, there is no doubt of a favorable result. Charles R. Barker of New York, engineer with the National Board of Fire Underwriters, has been selected as a disinterested person to supervise and conduct the test. Mr. Barker is the man who was here in 1911 investigating conditions in Norwich in regard to fire risk and protection, and it is regarded as a thing for the department to have him back to see the progress that has been made since then. Mr. Barker is of large experience and will be an impartial judge. He is expected to get here about eight o'clock.

Chief Howard L. Stanton and the fire commissioners have been sending out invitations to the city officials and the chiefs of the fire departments in other cities of this and the neighboring states and the New England office of the Seagraves company at Boston has likewise been mailing invitations to chiefs in many of the New England cities. Therefore there is expected to be quite a gathering of the experts in the city of the fire departments on Thursday afternoon.

From the fact that Falls avenue, although an excellent place for the test, is not particularly accessible to people who want to see the workout, Chief Stanton is planning to have an exhibit on the city of the fire departments on Union square, after the official test is over on Thursday afternoon. The pump, as previously described, will be expected to throw 750 gallons of water at a net pump pressure of 120 pounds, and it is planned to test it out first pumping from the river and then from a hydrant at some elevation.

DEATH FROM NITROUS OXIDE.
Compensation Hearing Will Decide Claims of Widow of Thomas Dooley.

Whether an employee of the Chester yellow factory, who lost his life by inhaling noxious gases can recover under the workmen's compensation act, is the interesting question that will be decided today (Monday), when the hearing is held on the claim of the widow of Thomas Dooley, who lost his life one Sunday afternoon in October as the result of breathing nitrous oxide gas, the fumes of which form certain of the acids used at the factory are mixed. Dooley complained about the gas choking him, but returned to the second story to finish his job. Later on he was taken sick and was taken to Middletown in an automobile. He died shortly after his arrival at his home.

The doctor admitted that the breathing of the gas had caused his death, it being of such a nature that it was almost impossible for his system to throw it off. Coroner Stephen B. Davis at his official inquiry in regard to the matter, remarked that in his opinion the owners of the factory ought to take some measures to warn their employees of the dangerous nature of the product.

The Chester concern is protected by insurance, and the company is expected to contest the claim before Commissioner J. J. Donohue of Norwich, when the hearing is held in Middletown today. Judge Thomas C. Flood of Portland will appear for the widow.

Dooley was earning between $18 and $20 a week at the time of his death, hence if Mrs. Dooley is awarded compensation she will receive over $3,000.

COLD WEATHER SUGGESTIONS.
How Humane Owners and Drivers May Better Care For Their Horses.

With the coming of real winter, the Connecticut Humane society is making, as usual, an appeal in behalf of the horses as follows:

The society is sending out a leaflet giving "Cold Weather Suggestions for the Treatment of Horses," as follows:

Warm the bits a little on freezing mornings.

Take the chill off the water he drinks.

Be careful about exposing him when outdoors.

Blanket him when he stands in the cold.

Have his shoes sharpened when the streets are slippery.

Take no risks of injury to him in skating over asphalt.

On icy mornings carry some sand for emergencies.

Load lighter when snow blocks the streets.

Do a little shoveling and help your horse.

Attempt no hard pulls up steep or slippery inclines.

Horses draw and keep their balance better uncheckered.

Give him frequent rests on snowy roads.

Help your horse with a little axle grease.

Rub him down when he comes in wet.

Feed carefully and well during the winter.

Blanket and bed him sufficiently on cold nights.

Send for a veterinarian before it is too late.

Keep your temper and save your horse.
